

Father's Day Tribute

A Legacy of Love

Naty Enriquez, Milwaukee, is one of the more than 196,000 individuals in the U.S. who has served as a caregiver for someone living with Alzheimer's or dementia. Her father, José, was diagnosed two years ago with Alzheimer's and lost his battle with the disease in April, 2021. After his diagnosis, Naty attended a caregiver support group offered by the Alzheimer's Association and was grateful for the network it provided her.

"I am proud to have been able to take care of my dad," Naty said. "He was a good father to 10 children. Grandkids, nieces and nephews and everyone always said he made them feel special."

Naty shared that her father always gave her hope. "Just weeks before he passed, he wanted to celebrate the feast of St. Joseph – with his favorites, cake and Coca-Cola," Naty shared. "He knew his time was coming to an end and he told us he wanted us to stay close to each other."

This Father's Day, we honor José and the legacy of love he left behind!
