

Human Stem Cell Research

In keeping with its mission to eliminate Alzheimer's disease, the Alzheimer's Association opposes any restriction or limitation on human stem cell research, provided that appropriate scientific review, and ethical and oversight guidelines are in place.

— Adopted by the Alzheimer's Association National Board of Directors, June 2004.