

For Immediate Release:

Richard S. Fisher is new Chairman of Board of Directors for the Alzheimer's Association Connecticut Chapter

Richard S. Fisher, a partner in the Stamford Law Firm of Cacace, Tusch & Santagata has been elected Chairman of the Connecticut Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association for the 2009-2010 year.

Fisher has been involved with the Alzheimer's Association for 18 years, having served on the Board of Directors of the Fairfield County Chapter and as its chairman before it merged with the South Central and Northern Connecticut Chapters to form the Connecticut Chapter. Over the last three years he has served as the Chapter delegate to the National Delegate Assembly, as well as in a succession of officer positions.

His previous non-profit affiliations have been with Junior Achievement of Southwest Connecticut, Inc., Temple Beth El, Stamford Symphony Orchestra, the Jewish Home for the Elderly of Fairfield County, among others.

As head of the Estate Department at the Cacace firm, he concentrates in elder law, estate planning and probate. He is listed in Connecticut Magazine as a "Super Lawyer" in the field of estate planning and probate and is listed in New York Magazine in "Best Lawyers of America" in the field of elder law. He is currently a member of the Executive Committees of the Estates & Probate Section and the Elder Law Section of the Connecticut Bar Association and also is a member of the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys.

Fisher received a degree in business administration (accounting) from the Pennsylvania State University, his law degree from Cornell Law School and a Masters of Law Degree in Taxation from George Washington University Law School.

###