

The hardest part about caring for someone with Alzheimer's is remembering that you are only human.

The hardest part about caring for someone with Alzheimer's is remembering that you are only human.

The hardest part about caring for someone with Alzheimer's is remembering that you are only human.

The hardest part about caring for someone with Alzheimer's is remembering that you are only human.