

Dear Families/Caregivers,

Attached is a list of Assisted Living Facilities in the area that you specified. Those facilities, which returned the Alzheimer's Association questionnaire, have additional columns filled. If there are blanks, the information was not provided. The costs listed may or may not reflect additional costs relating to the level of care needed by specific individuals. Therefore, don't let the listed costs deter you from investigating certain living facilities.

Attached to this letter are "Standards for Certified Alzheimer's Assisted Living Facilities" and "Licensing Standards for Assisted Living Facilities" which discusses Size and Type, as established by the Texas Department of Human Services. We have indicated on our attached list those facilities having Alzheimer's certification and also the Type/Size category. Facilities that are not "Certified Alzheimer's Assisted Living Facilities" may still operate "Alzheimer's Units" and you may wish to inquire as to the availability of such units.

For information regarding the assisted living facilities' latest state survey results, etc., please call The Texas Department of Human Services, Long Term Care-Regulatory Customer Service at 1-800-252-8016.

If the Alzheimer's Association can be of further service, please contact a HELpline volunteer at 713-314-1313 or 1314.

Thank you!

TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES
Licensing Standards for Assisted Living Facilities

Assisted living services are driven by a service philosophy that emphasizes personal dignity, autonomy, independence, and privacy. Assisted living services should enhance a person's ability to age in place in a residential setting while receiving increasing or decreasing levels of service as the person's needs change.

Size Categories:

Large: 17 or more beds

Small: 4-16 beds

Less than 4 beds is not regulated by the State of Texas

Types of assisted living facilities are as follows:

Type A. In a Type A facility a resident:

- (A) must be physically and mentally capable of evacuating the facility unassisted. This may include mobile non-ambulatory persons such as those who are in wheelchairs or electric carts and have the capacity to transfer and evacuate themselves in an emergency;
- (B) does not require routine attendance during nighttime sleeping hours; and
- (C) must be capable of following directions under emergency conditions.

Type B. In a Type B facility a resident may:

- (A) require staff assistance to evacuate;
- (B) be incapable of following directions under emergency conditions;
- (C) require attendance during nighttime sleeping hours; or
- (D) not be permanently bedfast, but may require assistance in transferring to and from a wheelchair.
- (E) Only Type facility that can admit Alzheimer's patients.

Type C. A four-bed facility which meets the minimum standards and program rules for enrollment with the Texas Department of Human Services as an adult foster care facility and is so enrolled on the effective date of this rule will be deemed licensed as a Type C facility without having to apply for an assisted living facility license.

Type E.

- (A) Limitation on types of residents. In a Type E facility a resident:

- must be physically and mentally capable of evacuating the facility unassisted. This may include persons who are mobile, although non-ambulatory, such as persons in wheelchairs or electric carts having the capacity to transfer and evacuate themselves in an emergency;
 - must not require routine attendance during nighttime sleeping hours; and
 - must be capable of following directions under emergency conditions.
- (B) Limitation on types of services. Notwithstanding any other provision in this chapter, Type E facilities may only provide medication supervision, and may not provide substantial assistance with the activities of daily living – meals, dressing, movement, bathing, or other personal needs or maintenance.

In addition to the requirements established by the State of Texas for Assisted Living Facilities, the following additional items are required for Certified Alzheimer’s Units:

- The manager of a certified Alzheimer’s facility must be 21 years of age and have college degree in nursing, health care management, psychology, gerontology or related field, and at least one year experience working with persons with dementia. The manager must complete six hours of annual continuing education regarding dementia care.
- All staff members must receive four hours of dementia-specific orientation prior to assuming any job responsibilities.
- Direct care staff must receive 16 hours of on-the-job supervision and training within the first 16 hours of employment following orientation. They must annually complete 12 hours of in-service education regarding Alzheimer’s disease.
- Facility must employ sufficient staff to provide services for and meet the needs of its Alzheimer’s residents. In large facilities or units with 17 or more residents, two staff members must be immediately available when residents are present.
- Facility must establish procedures, such as an application process, interviews, and home visits, to ensure that prospective residents are appropriate and their needs can be met.
- The facility must make a comprehensive assessment of each resident within 14 days of admission and annually.
- Facility staff, with input from the family, if available, must develop an individualized service plan for each resident, based upon the resident assessment, within 14 days of admission. The service plan must address the individual needs, preferences, and strengths of the resident. The service plan must be designed to help the resident maintain the highest possible level of physical, cognitive, and social functioning.

- The facility must encourage socialization, cognitive awareness, self-expression, and physical activity in a planned and structured activities program. Activities must be individualized, based upon the resident assessment, and appropriate for each resident's abilities.
- Alzheimer's units, if segregated from other parts of the Type "B" facility with approved security devices, must meet state requirements for living areas, dining areas, toilet/bath facilities, monitoring stations, exit doors and outdoor areas.

Assisted Living Facilities

Every effort has been made to offer a complete listing of assisted living facilities. The following are facilities that have expressed interest in being on this list by returning the Alzheimer's Association questionnaires. The Alzheimer's Association does not endorse any assisted living facility listed. Inclusion or exclusion is not an indication of approval or disapproval.
