THE BRAINS BEHIND SAVING YOURS:
10 WAYS TO LOVE YOUR BRAIN

START NOW. It’s never too late or too early to incorporate healthy habits.

- BREAK A SWEAT
  Engage in regular cardiovascular exercise that elevates heart rate and increases blood flow. Studies have found that physical activity reduces risk of cognitive decline.

- HIT THE BOOKS
  Formal education will help reduce risk of cognitive decline and dementia. Take a class at a local college, community center or online.

- BUTT OUT
  Smoking increases risk of cognitive decline. Quitting smoking can reduce risk to levels comparable to those who have not smoked.

- FOLLOW YOUR HEART
  Risk factors for cardiovascular disease and stroke — obesity, high blood pressure and diabetes — negatively impact your cognitive health.

- STUMP YOURSELF
  Challenge your mind. Build a piece of furniture. Play games of strategy, like bridge.

- BUDDY UP
  Staying socially engaged may support brain health. Find ways to be part of your local community or share activities with friends and family.

- TAKE CARE OF YOUR MENTAL HEALTH
  Some studies link depression with cognitive decline, so seek treatment if you have depression, anxiety or stress.

- CATCH SOME ZZZ’S
  Not getting enough sleep may result in problems with memory and thinking.

- HEADS UP!
  Brain injury can raise risk of cognitive decline and dementia. Wear a seat belt and use a helmet when playing contact sports or riding a bike.

- FUEL UP RIGHT
  Eat a balanced diet that is higher in vegetables and fruit to help reduce the risk of cognitive decline.

Growing evidence indicates that people can reduce their risk of cognitive decline by adopting key lifestyle habits. When possible, combine these habits to achieve maximum benefit for the brain and body.

I have had the fun and the pleasure to watch Karyn grow up into the extraordinary woman she is today. She has a triad of great qualities: intelligence, warmth and curiosity.

And a myriad of extra gifts, to name just a few: A loving heart, natural graciousness, ethics, equanimity and empathy.

Adding to her personal world, she has married her soulmate, Steven Kobre, and together have brought forth a remarkable quartet of children. I am blessed to be part of their extended family.
