

Amy
FORD

Chairwoman
The Reserve at Lake Austin
Director of Sales and Marketing

With 30+ years in Sales, Amy Ford pivoted to senior living after her father's Alzheimer's diagnosis, a disease that claimed several family members. She lent expertise to the Association, supporting a Walk team before joining the committee. In 2025, she was Austin's Top Corporate Fundraiser. Today, she chairs the Capital of Texas board. Her goal: "To be a dealer of contagious hope."

Raegan
SCOTT

Vice Chairwoman
Cisco Systems
Business Development Executive (retired)

Thirty years in tech and business development at Cisco Systems taught Raegan Scott to build networks that last. That instinct drives her mission to find a cure, and shapes caregiving for her mother who lives with the disease. Since joining the Austin Walk, she's become a top fundraiser. Her message: "Your network will surprise you and show up when you need it."

Larry
ZAHN

Board Member
Silicon Valley Bank
Head of Business Development
Global Fund Banking

Larry Zahn built his career providing solutions for private market investment funds across the United States. His path to the board began when his father was diagnosed with early-onset Alzheimer's. Now in his second board term, he's a top Austin Walk fundraiser. His goal: "To find a cure and make life easier for those affected. Now is the time to help us find it."

MAKE A DIFFERENCE. SERVE YOUR COMMUNITY ON OUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

Our Board members advance the mission and vision of the Alzheimer's Association, focusing on engagement, empowerment, and expanding into all communities. We welcome new community leaders to join the fight to end Alzheimer's and other dementias.

"If you have the passion and connections to move this mission forward, we need you on this board. Together, we can change the future of Alzheimer's."
