Alzheimer's Advocate in Kenesaw Selected for Esteemed Spokesperson Program

Local resident honored with Purple Profile of Courage for commitment to fighting Alzheimer's

Lincoln, NE – July 1, 2019 – The Alzheimer's Association is pleased to announce Kenesaw resident Gwen Jacobitz has been selected into the Alzheimer's Association's esteemed Purple Profiles of Courage Program. Purple Profiles of Courage awardees are members of various communities in Nebraska who are devoted to sharing their Alzheimer's story publicly and pursuing progress for the disease through engagement with Alzheimer's Association signature events. As a Purple Profiles of Courage awardee, Jacobitz received comprehensive training to advocate for research and policy advancements in the field, as well as training on how to showcase free programs and services offered to families walking the Alzheimer's journey. She will serve in this role through June 2020.

In the United States, there are over 5 million people with Alzheimer's and that is projected to grow to as many as 16 million people in 2050. In Nebraska alone, there are 34,000 people over the age of 65 living with the disease, and they are supported by 83,000 caregivers. According to the Alzheimer's Association, Alzheimer's is the sixth leading cause of death in the United States, with 698 deaths in Nebraska in 2017.

Jacobitz has been a supporter of the Alzheimer's Association for many years. She has served as a support group facilitator and member of the event planning committee for the Kearney Walk to End Alzheimer's. Jacobitz will use her new platform to provide support to individuals in a caregiving role, and make sure families that are not familiar with available community resources become aware.

"Alzheimer's disease is a heart-rending disease for both the person diagnosed with the disease and for the family members who have to watch and help that person navigate the disease process," Jacobitz states. "It's important for families to get as much education as possible to fully understand the disease, and to get into a support group with others going through the same process.”

Elizabeth Chentland, Director of Communications for the Alzheimer’s Association Nebraska Chapter, looks forward to helping Nebraskans better understand Alzheimer’s through the voices of people with extensive personal experience.

“We know that this disease affects families so deeply,” Chentland states. “Sometimes, the disease feels overwhelming to families. Being able to learn from a peer that has expertise on the disease and is willing to share their own story becomes critical in increasing awareness about the disease and providing information about care, support, and research opportunities.”
